

LANGUAGE CERTIFICATE

The grammatical form and English in text are very good. We have improved the English slightly and we think that the English style is very good and that we do not need a language certificate by a professional English language editing companies. Please note that we have submitted recently another manuscript (ESPS Manuscript NO: 10121 3) that was accepted for publication in the World Journal of Gastroenterology which I have also written and we were not asked for a language certificate by a professional English language editing companies