

Dear editors,

We are here to promise that our manuscript ESPS Ms. No. 1065 entitled "Magnifying chromoendoscopy combined with detection of PCNA and p53 for diagnosis of gastric precancerous lesions" has been translated and edited by a professional English translation company (unfortunately, we didn't keep a copy of the invoice, the original invoice has been sent to our college for reimbursement). In addition, we have an American medical Professor (Professor Sagel from Johns Hopkins University, Maryland, United States) who is a native English speaker make the further modification of the manuscript through one of our friends. According to the comments of the reviewers, the English of our manuscript is fluent.

Now, we are now promising the English language of our manuscript has at least met Grade B and is unnecessary to be edited by another English language editing company.

Thank you again for publishing our manuscript in the World Journal of Gastroenterology.

Sincerely yours,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to be 'Tong Dang', written on a light blue background.

Tong Dang, Professor,
Department of Gastroenterology,
the Second Affiliated Hospital of Baotou Medical College, Baotou 014030,
Inner Mongolia Autonomous Reigon, China