Reviewer comments and answers

Reviewer I

Matter of interest: it is an extremely interesting case report - Letter to the Editor, because it is a rare- life threatening complication, and there are only a few cases reported in the literature.

Language: grammatical and linguistic revision needs to be performed by English native speaker.

Answer: grammatical errors are revised by a native English speaker

Reviewer II

It is an interesting case. Few points need to be addressed.

1. It is mentioned "dirty fields in the right upper quadrant" -- not clear what the authors want to connote.

Answer: "dirty fields" is deleted and "dense fluid collection" is added in the sentence.

2. Did the patient have any evidence of perforation as suspected on CT? It is not clear.

Answer: Bowel thickness and dense fluid collection on the right upper quadrant have been explained as ulcer perforation.

3. There are many spelling mistakes and English needs to be corrected.

Answer: Spelling mistakes and grammatical errors are corrected.

4. References are quite old. Some new if there should be included

Answer: Two references are added in the text;

Ref 3. Faria G, Preto J, Oliveira M, Pimenta T, Baptista M, Costa-Maia J. Petersen's space hernia: A rare but expanding diagnosis. Int J Surg Case Rep 2011; 2: 141-143

Ref 4: Kojima K, Inokuchi M, Kato K, Motoyama K, Sugihara K. Petersen's hernia after laparoscopic distal gastrectomy with Roux-en-Y reconstruction for gastric cancer. Gastric Cancer 2014; 17: 146-151.

Reviewer III

The authors have written a letter to the editors on retroanastomotic herniation of small intestine after a subtotal gastrectomy 14 years ago. There are several issues with the manuscript which mandates major revision. There are several similar publications in the past related to the topic and this paper adds little to the existing body of knowledge. There are spelling mistakes at several places and the references are inadequate.

Answer: Spelling mistakes and grammatical errors are corrected. Two references are added in the text as mentioned above

3) References and typesetting were corrected

Thank you again for publishing our manuscript in the World Journal of Gastrointestinal Surgery.

Sincerely yours,
