(1) Reviewer's code: 00068574: The reviewer has not had comments.

(2) Reviewer's code: 00036951: Nutrition in children with IBD seems to be a broad topic. Many factors including age, weight, differences in the demand for nutrients depending on stage of child development as well severity of the disease have an important influence on it. For these reasons, the material might comprise a separate article. Thank you for drawing our attention to need of such a description.
