Editors-in-Chiefs, World Journal of Gastroenterology

Dear Editors-in-Chiefs:

My co-authors and I are submitting a revised retrospective study article for publication in the World Journal of Gastroenterology, titled "The Healthcare and Economic Impact of Diarrhea Among Patients with Carcinoid Syndrome."

My co-authors and I are all prolific scientific writers with a relatively long publication records. Michael S. Broder is a native English speaker. Thus, we would like to assure the Editors-in-Chief that we have very carefully written, reviewed, and revised the submitted manuscript such the final submitted draft was in grammatically correct and non-verbose scientific prose.

Moreover, I, Michael S. Broder, is the lead author on this manuscript, and English is my native language.

Sincerely,

Michael S. Broder, MD, MSHS
