Dear Editor

Thank you for editing and reviewing the manuscript. We have made the necessary changes as per your notes and reviewer's comments.

1. The core tip and abstract has been added
2. The correspondence address has been added
3. The references have been formatted with addition of PMID and doi
4. The reviewer 1 had asked about data in AKI population .

" Jain et al. reviewed the importance of health literacy in the care of patients with kidney diseases based on studies of health literacy in patients with kidney disease by using health literacy screening tools. The subject is extremely important for inhibition of the development of kidney diseases in clinical practice. The manuscript is well written. This reviewer has only one comment. If there are any data about health literacy in patients with acute kidney injury, please mention it."

We have addressed this under the title implication in clinical practice in first paragraph.

5. Reviewer -2 comments below have been addressed.

"Overall this manuscript addresses a novel topic of emerging significance. Not sure how specific it is for kidney disease and it just seems to give an overall view of this topic which is relevant for multiple diseases. Maybe the authors can emphasize specific tools that maybe more relevant for the patients with kidney disease since whatever is mentioned is just general for all the patients"

As pointed out by the reviewer, we have made sure that after mentioning the tools used in general population we do mention if it has been studied in renal patients or not.

Thank you

Kind regards

Deepika Jain
