

Informed consent statement

This is a retrospective study used routinely collected working, results did not bring any impact on all participants. Patients were not required to give informed consent to the study because the analysis used anonymous clinical data that were obtained after each patient agreed to treatment by written consent.

Corresponding author : Jinlin Yang

Jinlin Yang

Oct 16, 2015