

Dear Reviewers,

Thank you for reviewing our manuscript. Reviewers 36023 and 214317 had no suggestions regarding revision of my text. Reviewer 12309 raised concern regarding the suitability of the text for the World Journal of Radiology, due to its length and structure and unoriginal content. On reflection, we feel that this text, while lengthy, does provide a very comprehensive overview of up to date imaging in inflammatory bowel disease. While we understand that we have not provided much original material, this is a review article and as such requires a concise presentation of the relevant literature, which is what we feel we have provided. On that note, we have listed some of our own imaging protocols and technique preferences.

Thankyou again for your time and input.
