Dear Reviewers,

Thank you for your useful comments and suggestions on the language and the structure of our manuscript. We have modified the manuscript accordingly, and the detailed corrections are listed below point by point:

Reviewer 1: "Thanks for an interesting case report. The content of the paper is good but it needs major language polishing. Would recommend contact with a native english proofreader before publication". Reply to Reviewer 1: We revised the whole manuscript carefully according to your suggestions and we worked with a native English proofreader and skilled authors. We believe that the language is now acceptable for the review process.

Reviewer 2: "This manuscript has reported the first case of DHL and CHC successfully treated by new DAA. I think this article can be accepted for published in WJH with apriority and without modification". Reply to Reviewer 2: We thank the reviewer for the enthusiastic comments.

Reviewer 3: "Do we know how was the patient infected with HCV??? Please clarify that in the Text of the Manuscript ? Case report - COBAS? AmpliPrep Instrument.....Who is the manufacturer and from what city and country?". Reply to Reviewer 3: We introduced the request data in the text: "The patients had no history of blood transfusions or other risk factors for hepatitis virus transmission. For HCV-RNA testing we utilized the Cobas AmpliPrep/Cobas TaqMan® -Roche, Rotkreuz, Switzerland".
