Dear Reviewers,

Dear Editor-in-Chief,

We are glad to have our manuscript entitled “Saccharomyces cerevisiae CNCM I-3856 in Irritable Bowel Syndrome: an individual subject meta-analysis” accepted for publication in the World Journal of Gastroenterology.

As there is no demand for corrections from reviewers of this manuscript, the co-authors did not change the content and the presentation of the document.

Some precisions were nevertheless added in the conclusion (abstract and main text) and core tip without modifying the messages of the manuscript. These changes appear in the revised manuscript with change track.

The English language has been validated by one of the co-authors, GK Jacobson, who is a native English-speaker.

Authors have provided all the requested documents to validate the publication of the manuscript except for the Cross-check analysis for reasons that have been explained directly to the Editorial Office.

The signature of Copyright Assignment by one co-author, GK Jacobson, is provided separately due to low quality document.

On behalf of all authors,

Amélie Cayzeele Decherf
