Title: “The embrionary way to create a fatty liver in portal hypertension”

Dear Professor Ji:

Step 1. The authors have already revised and submitted our manuscript according to the three reviewers' comments. Also we've downloaded the manuscript file edited by the editor, and found the editor's suggestions in the edited manuscript file and we answered them. Firstly, I submit the revised manuscript in .doc file, as he requested, and secondly, I submit an Audio Core Tip as an independent e-mail.

Step 2. We've updated the manuscript according to the Guidelines and Requirements for Manuscript Revision-Review, and writted it according to the requirements for the Title, Running Title, Authorship, Abstract, Keywords, Core Tip, Academic Rules and Norms, Tables and Illustrations, Comments and References, and sumit it as an attachment.

Step 3. We provide an Audio Core Tip describing the final core tip of the manuscript. This audio file will be submit as an independent e-mail as wav file format.

Step 4. We've carefully checked the final title of our manuscript using Google Scholar.

Step 5. We've included into the manuscript the conflict-of-interest statement. In this way, the authors declare that there are any conflict of interest.

Step 6. We submit again a copy of the of the two approved grant application form(s) in PDF format.

Step 7. This article was translated from Spanish to English by Elizabeth Mascola, a professional linguistic reviewer, as well as a native English speaker. In addition we provide her language editing certificate.

Step 8. We submit the signed Copyright Assignment form in PDF format, after checking that the information in the signed document (i.e., the manuscript title, the authors' list, and the corresponding author) is identical to the information presented in the final version of the manuscript.

Step 9. Finally, we submit the revised manuscript and all related documents.

We really hope that these explanations, based on your constructive comments and helpful suggestions, clarify enough your doubt. We also want to thank you for your time and courtesy in the editorial management of our manuscript.

Sincerely yours,
