How to treat intestinal obstruction due to malignant recurrence after Whipple's resection for pancreatic head cancer: Description of 2 new endoscopic techniques

Mouradides C et al. Self-expandable metal stent insertion for malignant intestinal strictures

Christina Mouradides, Alaa Taha, Ivan Borbath, Pierre H Deprez, Tom G Moreels

Abstract

The prognosis of pancreatic cancer remains poor, even after initial surgical therapy. Local recurrence after Whipple's pancreatico-duodenectomy may lead to intestinal obstruction at the level of the afferent limb or the alimentary limb. Endoscopic insertion of a self-expandable metal stent (SEMS) into the intestinal malignant stricture is the
