

Institutional review board statement

This study is a retrospective study involving case collection. The data from treated patients were analyzed based on clinical data collected in our hospitals. The aim of the study was only to review retrospective data from the clinical records of the patients. Therefore, we have no need for an IRB statement.