

Dear Editor,

Name of Journal: World Journal of Gastroenterology

ESPS Manuscript NO: 32809

Manuscript Type: CASE REPORT

We would like to response the comments one point to point as following:

Response to reviewer 1:

Comment 1:

There are some grammatical errors.

1. Response: Thank you for your useful comments and suggestions on the language and the structure of our manuscript. We have revised the manuscript. In addition, we asked one English native speaker to polish the language. We believe that the language is now acceptable.

Response to reviewer 2:

Thank you for your time and effort spent in this manuscript. We revised the manuscript accordingly, and the details are listed below point by point:

1. There are several new publications concerning fecal microbiota transplantation in Inflammatory Bowel Disease which should be mentioned in this manuscript.

Response: Thank you for drawing our attention to these new publications. We have read them carefully and cited them in the references.

2. This manuscript lacks of such parameters eventually suggesting nutrient deficiencies.

Response: The nutrient deficiencies associated with Crohn's diseases can cause the seizures according to the reported case. However, the patient in our case report was diagnosed as epilepsy at the age of 13 and only had mild malnutrition.

3. There are no histological pictures nor MRI scan confirmed diagnosis.

Response: The patient has clearly been diagnosed before admission.

Thank you again for publishing our manuscript in the World Journal of Gastroenterology.

Sincerely yours,

Faming
