

Informed-consent-statement:

prognostic significance of pretreatment serum carcinoembryonic antigen levels in gastric cancer with pathological lymph node-negative:

A large sample single-center retrospective study

Xiao J et al. 2017

Patients were not required to give informed consent to the study because the analysis used anonymous clinical data that were obtained after each patient agreed to treatment by verbal consent. Individuals can't be identified according to the data presented.

1th November 2017

Lu-Chuan Chen, MD
Lu-Chuan Chen