

Answering Reviewers:

This article now has the correct formatting for the case report. The “comments” section was added. The title was changed from Ayurvedic Drug induced Hepatotoxicity to Ayurvedic Drug Induced Liver Injury. We felt this new title was more appropriate as the ACG guidelines are using drug induced liver injury as well. The appropriate arrows were added to indicate important information on all relevant pictures/figures. The mechanism for ayurvedic drug induced liver injury is not known. This listed as a weakness for the paper, and we do acknowledge the reviewers comments about this. This underlying mechanism is an area that can be further explored with subsequent research.