

Institutional animal care and use committee statement

No animals were used for the study, so institutional animal care and use committee approval is unnecessary.