Novel biomarkers for patient stratification in colorectal cancer: A review of definitions, emerging concepts, and data

Manish Chand, Deborah S Keller, Reza Mirnezami, Marc Bullock, Aneel Bhangu, Brendan Moran, Paris P Tekkis, Gina Brown, Alex Mirnezami, Mariana Berho

Abstract

Colorectal cancer treatment has become more personalised, incorporating a combination of the individual patient risk assessment, gene testing, and chemotherapy with surgery for optimal care. The improvement of staging with high-resolution imaging has allowed more selective treatments, optimising survival
