SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This manuscript entitled "Encapsulating Peritoneal Sclerosis" (EPS) is a review about a rare condition. The authors present a well written and comprehensive review that covers the entire known spectrum of EPS. I only have minor comments to add: - Please, consider that few sentences start with 3 "spaces" rather than 2 ones in the rest of the manuscript. - Please, consider to provide an explanation of PD, VEGF, IL-6, COL1A1, TGF, CCN2, mTOR, CRP, UK abbreviations in the main text before use them. - Section "Imaging": 2nd sentence needs a period symbol (full stop) at the end. - Section "Laboratory": 1st sentence in-text citation has non-consistent appearance. (i.e. no " []"). - Section "Histopathology": Last sentence: please, reconsider comma use. - Section "EPS Staging": Last sentence in-text citation has non-consistent appearance. - Section "Dysmotility": 1st sentence needs a period symbol (full stop) at the end AND in-text citation has non-consistent appearance.
