SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

This manuscript is a case report about a very rare localization of Follicular Dendritic Cell Sarcoma (FDCS). I recommend some corrections; 1. Reference #3 and #14 are incomplete and should be completed such as; a. #3. doi:10.5146/tjpath.2017.01408 b. #14.

Histopathology 2002; 41(1):1-29. 2. The word “enterocoelia” or “enterocoelic mass” is not commonly used word in the medical literature, instead of it, “intraabdominal mass” is better. 3. In the Discussion section, “higher rate of replace” should be corrected by “higher rate of relapse”. 4. Again in the Discussion section; a. “carcinogenic” in place of “carcinogenetic”, b. “Castleman” in place of “castleman”, c. “Epstein-Barr” in place of “Epsteim-barr”, d. “interdigitating dendritic cell sarcoma (IDCS)” in place of “dendrite cell sarcoma (IDCS)” at the 2nd paragraph in pp 6. e. “recommended” in place of “commended” in pp 7. After these corrections, this case report is worth publishing.

errors are present which should be corrected as well as some medical terminologies.
2.Introduction is too short. The statistics about non popularity of the case and the necessity of the case presentation as case report should be noted in the Introduction.
