

Manuscript Title: Persistently elevated plasma levels of 8 proangiogenic proteins after colorectal resection are associated with greatly increased wound fluid levels of the same proteins

Statistical analysis carried out by Xiaohong Yan PhD and HMC Shantha Kumara PhD

In this study, Xiaohong Yan and HMC Shantha Kumara at the division of colon and rectal surgery, department of surgery, Mount Sinai West Hospital took charge of the statistical analysis since they have an advanced knowledge of statistical analysis.