

Dear editor and reviewers:

We highly appreciate the comments and suggestions from the two reviewers and the editor concerning our manuscript entitled "Dual energy CT detects metastatic lymph nodes in patients with hepatocellular carcinoma" (Manuscript NO: 46198). Those comments help improve our manuscripts in many aspects. We have made revisions according to the comments with revised portions highlighted in blue color font in our submitted manuscript. Our responses (in blue color font) to the reviewer's comments are as follows.

Reviewer #1:

The authors have produced a very detailed and well executed study using dual energy CT scan to identify metastatic lymph nodes in patients with HCC. This has the potential to be a very useful addition in the prognostication of HCC and should aid clinicians with allocating the correct treatment strategies in patients with HCC. The study is well written and the authors have correctly pointed out their own short comings. I think the manuscript is worthy of publication.

Reviewer #2:

This paper studied "Dual energy CT detects metastatic lymph nodes in patients with hepatocellular carcinoma". The manuscript is well presented and of interest. The hypothesis of the study is novel and the design of this study is appropriate. The study was done well and their results can contribute to knowledge of this topic.

Reviewer #3:

The authors evaluated the diagnostic value of dual energy computed tomography in regional lymph node assessment for HCC in 43 patients. They found that a combined analysis of MSAD with dual-energy CT quantifiable parameters such as IC, NIC and λ HU in portal-phase is highly valuable in differentiating benign LN from malignant ones. I think that the manuscript is scientific, well written and deserves to be published in the WJG in its current form.
