manuscript is very interesting. The Authors describes the complex and various use of the adjuvant chemotherapies after surgical treatment of pancreatic cancer. The analysis of this topic is complete, mainly based on the evaluation of the paper of Conroy and also based on other valuable studies. In summary the study is well written. I have only one suggestion. In my opinion should be necessary to insert in the Title the word "Commentary": for example "Modified Folfirinox for resected pancreatic cancer: opportunities and challenges-Commentary on Conroy's study".
