The authors certify that the English used in this manuscript is correct in its grammar, syntax and spelling. In particular, Dr. Balzola spent part of his life working at Royal Free Hospital in London and Dr. Alessandria is often attending international meetings with an active role both in clinical research and scientific dissemination. They both speak and write in a high-standard English and take full responsibility for the quality of the language used in this review.

Dr. Carlo Alessandria and Dr. Federico Balzola,
