Re: Non-Native Speakers of English Editing Certificate

To whom it may concern,

I would like to confirm that I am a native English speaker (born and educated in Canada, living in the US for over 30 years) with over 200 peer-reviewed publications. I am the senior author of the manuscript entitled "G protein-coupled estrogen receptor in colon function, immune regulation and carcinogenesis" by Jacenik D., Beswick E.J., Krajewska W.M., and Prossnitz E.R. (manuscript ID 47779). I have extensively edited the manuscript to conform to best practices in grammar and style.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'E. Prossnitz', with a stylized flourish at the end.
