This is an interesting study about the wild-type gastrointestinal stromal tumor associated with neurofibromatosis type 1. The two cases are very rare, and the manuscript is well written. The diagnosis of the cases are correct, and the treatments are reasonable. Comments: 1. The manuscript requires a minor language editing. Some minor language polishing should be corrected. 2. The figures are too small, especially the figure 4. The authors should improve it. 3. The format should be improved according to the journal's style, including the references. I didn't find the PMID number in the references.

Very rare cases, and manuscript is well written. The figures should be improved. Minor language polishing should be revised.
