

FGF signaling in NAFLD and NASH - paving the way to HCC

Matthias Ocker

Language certificate for submission to World Journal of Gastroenterology

The manuscript was rated language grade A and grade B by the initial reviewers and has been carefully re-read and improved in spelling and grammar by the author, Matthias Ocker, MD.

Matthias Ocker has previously written more than 125 English language publications and is permanent reviewer and editorial Board member of the World Journal of Gastroenterology. The authors has more than 15 years of professional English speaking experience, including working for a global pharmaceutical company, presentations at international scientific conferences and societies and is a permanent peer-reviewer for several international funding agencies.

The author confirms that language Grade A was reached.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Matthias Ocker". The script is cursive and fluid, with the first name and last name clearly distinguishable.

Prof. Dr. Matthias Ocker