Certificate of Language Editing

To whom it may concern,

We are writing this letter of certification to certify that the manuscript entitled “Diabetes and Cancer: Epidemiological and Biological Links” has been reviewed and edited by our communication coaches and is certified to be of publishing quality.

We have also improved the writing of the manuscript in the following ways:

1. By providing feedback on the writing and drafting process to the authors;
2. By encouraging awareness of the authors’ audience and the purpose of communicating;
3. By highlighting issues related to coherence, cohesion, language style and tone, grammar and mechanics, organization, and format.

This letter of certification is requested by the authors of the abovementioned manuscript. More information regarding our organization, Language and Communication Centre (LCC) Communication Cube, can be found at: <http://lcc.soh.ntu.edu.sg/cube/>.

Yours cordially,

LCC Communication Cube
