

To Whom It May Concern,

Jingbo Xiao (Fiona Xiao) submitted an original article titled 'Feasibility and efficacy evaluation of metallic biliary stents eluting gemcitabine and cisplatin for extrahepatic cholangiocarcinoma.' (Manuscript NO: 57275) to World Journal of Gastroenterology on 06/03/2020. About language evaluation of the article, she got an 'A(Priority publishing)' and a 'B(Minor language polishing)' from reviewers. Now the article is under consideration for publication.

She works as a hospitalist at Shanghai Jiahui International Hospital (JIH), which is one of the best International Hospital in China. More than 1/3 of Jiahui's physicians/employees are foreigners and working language is officially English.

She's good at written and spoken English. Attached please kindly find her certificate of employment.

During the revision process, Dr. David Krason provided comprehensive editing services for the revised manuscript. He is a native-English speaker and works at both Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH) and Shanghai Jiahui International Hospital as a hospitalist.

Should you require any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact him.

David Krason, MD
Hospitalist&ID Chief, JIH
