SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Overall interesting paper, however, in need of improvements. When the first world, i.e., Title, is misspelled, it suggests very little attention to the details. This is particularly clear in the References section, where almost every reference is formally wrong. Caps in wrong places, the journals cited differently etc. Needs complete revision. Introduction needs better explanation why the study was done and why is novel. Material and Methods is fine, but the conclusion does not fully reflect the findings and needs to be re-written.

Changes significantly improved the quality, both formally and from scientific point of view.
