SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

FMT is an effective method for the recurrent CDI, and some IBD patients. we all know that the disruption of gut microbiome is associated with many non-GI disorders such as some inflammatory skin diseases. Our team of GI microbiome including gastroenterologists and dermatologists has performed FMT for severe psoriasis patient combined with IBS. After FMT treatment, aforementioned items were improved greatly, and IBS was completely relieved and no adverse reactions were observed during the treatment and follow-up. I want to know the detail data about the 141 patients receiving FMT in your hospital. In future, MDT for microbiome associated disorders and FMT should be established.
