Real-world clinical data of endoscopy-based cancer detection during the emergency declaration for COVID-19 in Japan

Shuntaro Yoshida, Toshihiro Nishizawa, Osamu Toyoshima

Abstract

The impact of the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic is widespread throughout the world, causing serious damage to healthcare systems. Therefore, we examined the significance of endoscopy based on the recommendation of APSDE (Asian-Pacific Society for Digestive Endoscopy) and JGES (Japan Gastroenterological
