To reviewers

-I would avoid the term screening next to PET as it indicates investigation for early detection. Here the disease was obvious. I would use just PET.

The Term “PET” rather than “PETS” was used. “Closed margin” was corrected with “close margin”. The sentence “he accepted a series of” was corrected as “he was treated with a series of”

-References need to be consistently presented both in text and in list according to journal's guidelines. Now each reference is reported differently.

References have been consistently presented both in text and in list

-The phrase 'Due to the clinically closed margin, he accepted a series of concurrent chemo-radiotherapies after surgery' needs to be amended. use 'close' instead of 'closed' and 'he was treated with concurrent chemoradiotherapy' instead of 'he accepted a series of concurrent chemo-radiotherapies' -the phrase 'PETS played an important role in both lymph nodes and distant metastasis.' is not clear. What do you mean?

The sentence 'PET played an important role in both lymph nodes and distant metastasis.' is not clear. Therefore here is the revised sentence, “PET payed an important role in both detection of lymphadenopathy and distant metastasis of primary lung cancer.”
