

Original article " PET complete metabolic response as a favorable prognostic predictor in esophageal cancer following neo-adjuvant chemotherapy with DCF" is being considered for submission to World Journal Clinical Oncology.

This study includes statistical analysis, but there is no statistician among the co-authors, and it is difficult to submit a statistical certificate. We have performed statistical analysis in accordance with the formal method and described in material and methods in detail.

We would like to submit our manuscript to WJCO and ask you to decide whether to accept or reject the manuscript after reviewing the content.

Thank you for your consideration.

This question was asked through the help desk on 19th Sep. (ID 11960)