To Whom It May Concern,

Iona Jean MacDonald has provided comprehensive editing services for "A Noninferiority Clinical Trial Comparing the Bowel Cleansing Efficacy of Sodium Phosphate Tablets with a Polyethylene Glycol/Bisacodyl Kit (The Quiklean® Study)", by Hung SY and colleagues, which is under consideration for publication in your journal. The manuscript does not require language polishing following its editing.

Iona has been a medical editor and writer for almost 25 years, beginning with Adis International Ltd. (Auckland, New Zealand) in January 1997, from where she left in 2004 to work for a year in Taiwan's then-largest Contract Research Organization. Upon returning to New Zealand, Iona started her freelance medical editing/writing career, in which she continued until late 2019, by which time she was working fulltime in Taiwan.

Should you require any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact Iona.
