Specific Comments to Authors: Authors reported a case with LCNEC of endometrium. This case report was well-written. In present case, she was treated with paclitaxel liposome and carboplatin, although etoposide and cisplatin is usually selected. The treatment results of present case should be described, and the treatment selection should be discussed.

Response: Thank you for your comment. The patient received four cycles of adjuvant chemotherapy with paclitaxel liposome (240 mg) and lobaplatin (50 mg). The mention of carboplatin in the original manuscript was an error, which has been corrected. Appropriate text has been included in the Outcomes and Follow-up (Page 6) and Discussion sections of the revised manuscript (from Page 8, Lines 29-30 to Page 9, Lines 1-5).*
