SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

I really appreciate your work and I consider that this manuscript makes concrete contributions to the knowledge on a rare disease "Sclerosing polycystic adenosis (SPA) of the submandibular gland". Previous scholars mainly focused on this disease arising from the parotid gland, while the authors summarized the characteristics of SPA cases of the submandibular gland, a rarer entity, and presented two new cases. Despite these merits, I still hope the authors can have a discussion on the differences of SPA among different subsites, and the conclusion should be more related to the features of SPA specifically in the submandibular gland.
