SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

First, HVVT is a relatively rare research field in hepatocellular carcinoma. The author's choice for the objective is novel and attracting the eye of readers. The topic selection is good. Secondly, the structure of the article is reasonable, it analyzes the effects of HVVT on these main treatment methods for HCC . Because of its relatively small research, there is not enough literature in some parts to support the title, so the article seem not enough solid. Finally, some chart should be added appropriately, such as HVVT anatomy, which can make readers more intuitive and understand for HVVT. The opinions of author in the article are relatively too few, there are need some of author's opinions
