SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The authors showed an overview of hepatic artery traumas. This article is very educational to manage and prevent hepatic artery injuries for surgeons, especially for hepatobiliary surgeons. The authors need some revision. 1. In Table 1, the authors need to include tissue bacteriology. 2. It's difficult for the readers to understand the operative field in Figure 3. I recommend you to provide schemes of hepatic artery traumas in HBP surgery. For example, PD, LAP-C, hepatectomy, etc. 3. In the "Protection" section, the authors should include preoperative simulation and intraoperative navigation techniques. Only the radiological evaluation of preoperative images is not enough for protection. There are some emerging modalities. 4. In the "Treatment/Reconstruction", Why within the first four days? Any reference? And What is the indication of the reconstruction? 5. The authors should include real "hepatic artery trauma" by external trauma.
