

July 29, 2021

Certificate of Editing

To whom it may concern:

This letter certifies that the manuscript entitled "Involvement of integrin-activating peptides derived from tenascin-C in colon cancer progression" by Motomichi Fujita et al. has been professionally edited by a native speaker familiar with the author's field. Assuming that the author has made no additional changes to the text, the manuscript should meet the grammatical standards required by an English-language publication.

ThinkSCIENCE K.K. is a Japan-based company specializing in providing high-quality editing, proofreading, and translation services to authors in all fields of science, medicine, and technology. We also support the work of academic journals and societies, and corporations. If you would like more information about our services or policies, please feel free to contact us.

Sincerely,

John Zepernick
Managing Editor
ThinkSCIENCE, Inc.