SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

Manuscript titled "Role of endoscopic ultrasound in anticancer therapy: current evidence and future perspectives" is a very well planned and written review article. The authors presented a very interesting summary of current knowledge about the role of endoscopic ultrasound in oncology. In my opinion, the quality and importance of this manuscript is of very high value. Minor revisions: 1/ the authors should attach images from endoscopic ultrasound that will correspond with described issues 2/ the authors should also improve slightly the introduction and conclusion sections I wish to congratulate the authors the interesting manuscript.
