

Dear Editor,

Herewith I would like to re-submit a manuscript entitled:

“The therapeutic role of yoga on neuropsychological disorders”

for publication in the World Journal of Psychiatry. Please find enclosed the revised version of our manuscript and a detailed account of our statements concerning the reviewers' points.

We believe that the changes made based on the suggestions of reviewers have greatly improved the manuscript and appreciated all comments. The following revisions have been made:

Reviewer 1:

1. The paper will benefit from extended discussion to address also some other fields of application like professional burn out; OCD and somatoform disorders, hypochondria etc.

Response: A sub-section was added to the article (3.2.5; Yoga and other psychological disorders) and mentioned topics were discussed (15 new references were cited). The language of the article was revised.

Reviewer 2:

1. In the introduction section, if the authors describe more specifically the trends in yoga research (especially the mechanisms affecting brain health), it can help readers understand.

Response: The possible mechanism of yoga effect on brain health was discussed in the introduction section (second paragraph) and 5 new references were cited.

Editor:

1. Figures (PPT format) and table were submitted with high resolution.

We hope that after revision of the manuscript it will be satisfactory and can be considered for publication.

Thank you very much for your efforts and considerations.

Yours very sincerely,

Ali Gorji
