This topic provides a new message in liver diseases. It is well worded. Some suggestions:

1. These 2 parts 'Human Glutathione-S-transferase' and 'Nonalcoholic fatty liver disease' are too lengthy. Please make them more concise. 2. The author should discuss the relationship between GSTM1-GSTT1 and HCC in HBV / HCV infected subjects. 3. In page 6, the authors discussed that GSTs contribute to the host resistance against various microorganism, but this should be more clearly stated. In some studies published in 2020, this issue was explained more clearly.
