Dear Editors-in-Chief,

Our article entitled “Elderly patients with non-cardiac admissions and elevated high-sensitivity troponin: the prognostic value of renal function” has been checked for the quality of the language so that it meets the requirements of academic publishing by Dr. Michail Papafaklis. Dr. Papafaklis holds a Certificate of Proficiency in English from the University of Cambridge, UK, and he has also worked as a Research Fellow and Cardiologist for several years at Brigham & Women’s Hospital, Harvard Medical School in the USA, and at Hammersmith and St Bartholomew’s Hospitals in London, UK.

Yours sincerely,

Christos S. Katsouras

Associate Professor of Cardiology
