

To whom it may concern,

Friday, 28 January 2022

I have edited the manuscript “The effect of Oxaliplatin-induced neuropathy on the quality of life of patients with colo-rectal cancer. Practical lessons from a prospective cross-sectional, real-world study”. My name is Dean Hufstetler, a certified teacher from the State of California with more than 30 years of teaching experience and I have over ten years’ experience revising academic papers, receiving Grade A: no language polishing after editing.

Should you require any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,

Dean Hufstetler
