Dear Mr. Wen,

I am an editor at Bezmialem Medical University in Istanbul, Turkey. I polish manuscripts that are destined to be published in professional medical journals. One of the most recent was "Anesthetic management of the SRS Endoscopic Stapling System for gastro-esophageal reflux disease" written by Dr. Ufuk Topuz et al.

Your "Letter to the authors" lists 8 different editing companies with a note that "Exception may be offered to an author who provides a formal guarantee that the manuscript has reached/exceeded Grade B (only minor language polishing is required)." In my opinion, mss 683 meets your Grade B level.

Respectfully submitted,
