

To Whom It May Concern

I hereby certify that the quality of the English language in the report by B. Mohelníková-Duchoňová et al. "FOLFOX/FOLFIRI pharmacogenetics: the call for a personalized approach in colorectal cancer therapy" is adequate. As the senior author I also revised the final version and reviewed the paper several times to ensure that proper grammar and expressions are used in the manuscript.

Personally, I have spent 3 years in the United States and English is my second language, it is also the second language of the institution where I currently work. I wrote, mostly by myself, more than 100 English-language papers. Moreover, I work as an editor of two peer-reviewed English language journals, and assessment of the quality of English is one of my basic duties.
