CERTIFICATE

I, Dr. Péter Hegyi, Professor and Head of the Institute for Translational Medicine, Medical School, University of Pécs, certify that the English grammar review of the article entitled:

„Prophylactic transcatheter arterial embolization reduces rebleeding in non-variceal upper gastrointestinal bleeding: a systematic review and meta-analysis” was performed by the native English speaking colleagues of the Institute for Translational Medicine, Medical School, University of Pécs.

Dr. Andrew Shawyer, Consultant Radiologist in University Hospitals Dorset NHS Foundation Trust, Department of Interventional Radiology, who is co-author of our systematic review and meta-analysis, had critically reviewed our manuscript and helped with writing and editing.
