

Statistical Review

The statistical review of the study was performed by a trained biomedical statistician who was blinded to the study.