SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

A manuscript is within the scope of the Journal. Title reflects the content of the article.
Abstract is adequately structured. Did the patient perform an MRI scan? I'd like to look at a picture of the pathology. Are there any more new findings in your case?

SPECIFIC COMMENTS TO AUTHORS

The authors reported a rare case of retroperitoneal atypical spindle cell lipomatous tumor. The case presentation was complete and clear, and the discussion was adequate and sufficient. I have some concerns needed to be clarified. 1. As a case report, the race of the patient should be list. 2. The operation took 8h. What were the difficulties? How about the intraoperative bleeding? 3. Could the follow-up CT scans be provided? They should be compared with the preoperative ones.
